Dear Dr Christine Katlama:

This is a reminder that we have not received the electronic version of your poster for CROI 2018, which was due today, February 26, 2018. Submission instructions are available online at: http://www.croiconference.org/information/poster-presentation-guidelines. We ask that you submit as soon, but preferably by March 1, 2018 so the electronic poster will be available to registered attendees via the mobile App when they arrive at CROI.

The electronic version of your poster will be available to registered CROI attendees on the CROI mobile app during the conference, and posted on the CROI website after the conference. Please note: CROI does not print physical posters for presenters. The presenting author is responsible for printing the poster for display in the poster hall.
